ORCA 2.0 Timeline  Progress Report on Organizational Changes

Submitted by: Matt Morscheck, LPC, ORCA President-Elect, Chair
ORCA/OMHCA Task Force

Over the past six months a Task Force comprised of Board Members from ORCA and the Oregon Mental Health Counselors Association (OMHCA) has been working diligently to reunite the two associations under a new 501(c)6 organizational structure. The combined association, which will retain the Oregon Counseling Association name, will be better positioned to advocate and lobby for the counseling profession.

What’s been done:

1. • €Aug. 2012 – ORCA/OMHCA Task Force begins meeting bi-weekly with the goal to develop an actionable proposal for moving the reunification forward.

3. • €Oct. 2012 – Rationale for organizational changes is communicated to ORCA members with request for member input.

4. • €Nov. 2012 – The Task Force engages legal advisers with expertise in non-profit association management to provide guidance on process.

5. • €Nov. 2012 – At ORCA Fall Conference, members have opportunity to discuss changes in-person. Larry Connor, OMHCA President, provides keynote address supporting reunification and importance of lobbying and advocacy.

6. • €Dec. 2012 – ORCA member vote passes with 97% supporting proposed organizational changes. Where we are today:
4. New governance structure proposal is being collaboratively developed with existing ORCA/OMHCA leaders, with a focus on retaining leaders from both associations under new organization.

5. By-laws are being revised, with guidance by legal team.

6. Preliminary work is being done on logistics of integrating membership systems, website, and finances. What’s next:

7. Task Force will develop a final proposal to be presented for a vote of membership.

8. ORCA member vote to formally approve the new structure, by-laws, and leadership. Task Force Members include: Dominick Robertson, Lara Pevzner, Larry Connor, CJ Strauss, Doug Querin, Peter Meiers, Susan Zall, Chris Boothby, Karen Van Acker, Matt Morschcek
ORCA Tech Committee Explained

The Tech Committee will work like an IT department, supplying development support, tech support, and A/V support. These are the Tech Committee teams:

Development (Dev)
The dev team will take on tasks of evaluating technical needs based on input from board members, suggesting changes or implementations to tech infrastructure and tools, and executing those changes or implementations. The dev team members are:

Roy Huggins
Ben Wright
Tod Fiste

Tech Support
The tech support team will provide hands-on assistance to board chairs and committee members in the use of software and hardware that is necessary to complete tasks for ORCA. Examples include the ORCA website or membership management system, but also software like Quickbooks or using a computer, if that are necessary for ORCA-related work. The member is:

Evan Dumas

To request support: Please email Evan at evan@edumas.com and request a phone appointment

A/V
This team will provide support for audio-visual equipment as needed. Team members:

Floating. No one is specifically assigned here. If you know anyone who might be willing, let me know!

Communications Committee Report for Board meeting 1/12/13

Submitted by: Sarah Lebo

Completed:
4. Continued to “man” the ORCA cell phone, answering inquiries from membership and potential members 3x per week and “triaging” questions I couldn’t address.
5. Continued to post comments on Facebook, Twitter, LinkedIn and our e-mail listserv
6. Updated the web site with conference news/photos on the homepage, ORCA/OMCHA merger info, and several job listings
7. Sent out mass e-mail facilitating membership vote on the ORCA/OMHCA merger, and then communicating information/facts about the unification (BIG thank you to Matt Morscheck and the rest of the unification team for providing the text for those announcements and for keeping us all updated on the wonderful progress you’ve made happen).
8. Attended introductory meeting with lobbyist and wrote a news article explaining the move to members for Winter 2013 newsletter
9. Trained Raina Hassan to take over newsletter starting with the Winter edition, early January 2013. Raina was a great fit for this role as she is a seasoned professional editor and writer, who is now a wonderful counselor.
10. Began discussions with new Tech Chair Roy Huggins about Web site “wish list,” current Web site problems (which he helpfully problem solved!) and hopes to transition the Web site to a different design program

Current Activities and Plans:
11. Start looking for a new Communications Chair to take over responsibilities as I transition to the Fall Conference Committee Chair position. Recommendations from other board members on potential/willing candidates who have an interest or work history in marketing/communications/journalism are appreciated
12. Continue posting to various social medias to keep our membership community thinking about ORCA and interacting with other members through our communication vehicles
13. Continue to encourage board members to be active on LinkedIn, Facebook and our Yahoo e-mail listserv to advertise and promote ORCA on a regular basis.
14. Continue working with Tech chair to rebrand the Web site and make it a more valuable and dynamic communication tool for the organization.
NBCC Report 01/2013

Josh Aldridge

Here are the updates of approved trainings in the community since our last meeting:

1. ERASOR Training 02/07/13

Instructor: Dr. Greg Czar
Area of Activity: Appraisal of Individuals

Summary: Dr. Greg Czar, presents information about conducting assessments for adolescents who sexually offend, particularly with using the ERASOR. He covers each one of the questions listed in the ERASOR.

2. Description of the Existential - Humanistic Case Consultation Group

Group 1: 09/13/12, 10/4/12, 11/1/12, 12/6/12, 1/3/13, 2/7/13, 3/7/13, 4/4/13, 5/2/13, 6/6/13
Group 2: 9/20/12, 10/11/12, 11/8/12, 12/13/12, 1/10/13, 2/14/13, 3/14/13, 4/11/13, 5/9/13,
6/13/13
Group 3: 9/27/12, 10/18/12, 11/15/12, 12/20/12, 1/17/13, 2/21/13, 3/21/13, 4/18/13, 5/16/13, 6/20/13

Instructor: Bob Edelstein, LMFT

Summary: This small group will explore the key principles of Existential Humanistic therapy in the case consultation format. Therapists will deepen their therapeutic work with clients by exploring the vital importance of being with the lived experience of both the client and themselves within the therapeutic context. Therapists will become aware of the importance of working with both the intra-psychic and interpersonal realms within the therapeutic container.

Therapists will understand the need for client's resistances, and learn ways to effectively engage with these resistances to facilitate optimum growth.

Fall Conference Planning Committee Report for Board meeting 1/12/13

Submitted by: CJ Strauss, on behalf of the committee which includes: Alexandra Saperstein, Dominick Robertson, Heather Bennett, Lara Pevzner, Sarah Lebo and Virginia Hood.

Last Year’s (2012) Conference:
- Continued for the 5th year several effective strategies: offering a pre-conference workshop; bringing the possible # of CE’s up to 19; allowing flexible 1, 2 or 3 day registration options; and increased marketing efforts.
- Had 120 paid registrants attend 244 “days” (2011 was 142/314, 2010 was 107/223, 2009 was 111/235, 2008 was 108/210, 2007 had 30).
- The invoice from the Red Lion on the River in Portland came to over $19K. We did make a small profit (see Treasurer's Report).
- 23 new people joined ORCA this year with their conference registration!
- Margaret Evans started a Networking Luncheon on Friday and took photos throughout.
- We received really good feedback about the educational aspects, the organization and the hoped-for OMHCA reunification, and the sense of community building and purpose.
- People especially appreciated that some of the education addressed the care of the practitioner (Dave Wenzel's keynote), and care for the profession (Dominick and Larry).
- Sarah Lebo wrote a great article for the Newsletter, capturing the highlights and energy.
- Lara Pevzner and Sarah hosted an end-of-year celebration potluck.
- CJ Strauss is officially resigning, leaving the committee in Sarah’s capable hands!

2013 Conference:
- October 31, November 1 & 2, 2013, in Eugene at the Valley River Inn.
- Probably will need to raise registration rates a bit to have a cushion for A/V equip etc.
- Discuss: conference theme (or not), ideas?

Next Meeting:
- Sunday, January 27th at 10:00 am, at 2304 E Burnside, suite 102 in Portland 97214.
Graduate Programs – Virginia Hood

Since our last board meeting, GRASS Committee activities include:

* Adding representatives from SOU and George Fox.

* Meeting with GRASS committee members at the yearly conference to network and brainstorm.

* To make transitions logistically smoother, coordinating with current GRASS committee members to identify and train replacement representatives.

* Creating a google drive document for GRASS committee members to share ideas on how to recruit other students for membership.

* Joining with New Professionals committee to plan the upcoming panel discussion event.
Last fall, since my membership team found their commitment to ORCA too difficult to maintain during their last year of school, I found some other help thanks to the fabulous Lara and company. Together we finished up many of the membership database projects that have been in the works since our new RegOnline system has been up and running. The last of the paper mailings were sent and we configured the system to send automatic, paperless emails to our members. Since everything is automatic now, the workload for my department has been cut substantially and has allowed me to just focus on individual member correspondence.

I have begun working with Aidan, the tech kid, to create a user manual for the RegOnline system, and his first project (how to set up automatic emails) served our team quite well as we accomplished the above. I will be working with him to finish the entire manual as a next goal.

On another positive note, my health problems have subsided as of mid-December and I have my energy back! However, my doctor has mandated that I still take it easy over the next few weeks, lest I land in the same situation I was in several months ago. Thus, I am happy to say that I will have some continued help with my department. Since CJ has expressed interest in coming back to her first love of membership, she will most likely assist with database troubleshooting and occasional email correspondence while I plan on using my energies to actively recruit members and help us reach our goal of increasing membership numbers.

With that, here are our current numbers:

Tech Committee Report Jan 2013
Roy Huggins

The Tech committee had its first meeting this month. We added the following members:
• Tod Fiste
• Evan Dumas
• Ben Wright

We discussed the structure of the committee and asked for doable time commitments from members. We discussed the upcoming merger between ORCA and OMHCA and our role in it.

Net tasks:
• Gather information from board members on technical needs
• Investigate and recommend solutions to those technical needs
• Introduce Evan to the board
